Coronavirus Update: Pharmatech Associates onsite support.

Safety remains a priority. COVID-19 related precautions and practices are in place as we work diligently to ensure our employees and our clients remain safe.

Monitoring authorities. We follow the guidance and align our procedures with the World Health Organization and relevant local, regional, and state governing bodies. We will continue to authorize only required travel and our office systems have been enhanced to allow our staff to work remotely or in our office.

Proactive communication. Our executive management meets weekly to review current safety guidelines released by the authorities and to discuss each client engagement. We can assure you that our team is fully informed on the progress and is responsive to any impediments that have been encountered.

Joining the global response to COVID-19. Pharmatech is actively engaged in providing support for new and promising tests and treatments in response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

We are committed to working together to maintain our close personal relationships during this time of social distancing while providing a high level of expertise and support. We remain vigilant, committed, and are here for you.
